

ABOUT MARUTEE

Marutee is an engineering services company with a focus on providing Product Development Solutions to clients across the globe in sectors ranging from automotive to alternative energy.

Challenge: With a focus on indigenous design and development of state-of-the-art Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs) with optimal & efficient solutions for industrial & social applications

Solution: SOLIDWORKS Professional includes productivity enhancement features to drive the product development faster, advanced features to automatically estimate manufacturing costs, help convert imported geometry, and search for design errors

Benefits:

- Shortened product time-to-market
- Sped up development process
- Eliminated cost of creating physical mock-ups

We have been using SOLIDWORKS for the past few years. As a services company, we deal with design challenges from a lot of domains such as Automotive, Home Appliances, SwitchGears, etc. SOLIDWORKS has been our one-stop solution for all these multi-disciplinary activities. SOLIDWORKS has helped us in Vehicle Design from the ground up to complete development. It has made easy the Integration of all different sub-systems into main assemblies. The UI has improved our productivity in 3D modelling, assembly and 2d drafting.

"Conceptia has been of great support in overcoming some of our Design and Development Challenges using SOLIDWORKS"

Srinivasan Laxman – Director

Marutee Design and Engineering Private Limited
